

1 April 2022

Email Subject: Final Examination Update

To: all CS UG, TPg and RPg students

Dear Students,

The ongoing pandemic has led to most of this term's academic activities being conducted online; this will also apply to examinations this May.

Engineering is evolving and the ability to apply our studies to new applications is of increasing value across our profession. Memorisation of answers from previous exams is counter to this. Therefore, please be advised that starting from this term's Examinations, our Department (and all Engineering classes) will exclusively employ questions that have not appeared in past examination papers. Individual course instructors will provide further details on what to expect on exams, as appropriate for her/his course.

We join with you as partners as we enhance our learning, continue improvements in our assessment regimen, and maintain high standards of honesty and integrity.

Sincerely,

Tak-Wah Lam, Head of the Department of Computer Science
KW Chow, Associate Dean of Engineering (Teaching and Learning - UG)
David Srolovitz, Dean of Engineering